MEET FAITH

Faith Brackett is the CEO of the CHD Tablet Talk Foundation, author of the "Nellie and Ellie" children's book series, a pageant queen, and a speaker who shares her messages globally to advocate, inspire, and encourage.

Faith graduated Cum Laude with her Bachelor of Science in Elementary Education and has experience working with school-aged children in grades K-12. She further served as the high school gifted and talented curriculum coordinator where she implemented the school's first Honors Diploma Program which recognized sustained academic achievement of extraordinary distinction by encouraging students to take full advantage of the rich offerings provided by the school and community.

Faith was born with a rare congenital heart defect, or CHD, known as Hypo-Plastic Left Heart Syndrome. As a result, she has undergone eight major open-heart surgeries, many of which were cutting-edge. She was among the first to receive what is now known as the Bi-Ventricular Repair. Because of her experience, Faith has become a fierce advocate for CHD. She is a sought-after speaker and advocate who works closely alongside the American Heart Association, the Children's Heart Foundation, It's My Heart - New England, and several other health organizations. Faith utilizes her social media platforms to share her experiences in hopes of helping others navigate their own CHD/health journeys and remove the stigmas associated with an invisible illness.

In 2020, Faith founded the CHD Tablet Talk Foundation, a 501(C)(3) nonprofit that keeps children with complex CHD connected and engaged while experiencing extended hospital stays by providing resources, education, support, tablets, connection, and mentorship. Because of her extensive volunteer work, Faith was awarded the 2020 Christenbury Award for outstanding community service. She is a two-time Gold Presidential Service Award Recipient with over 6,000 hours of community service.

Faith is no stranger to pageantry having held the titles of Ultimate International Ms. Maine 2023, USA National Miss Maine 2020, USA National Miss Pine Tree State 2021 having placed 1RU to the National Role Model Title. Through pageantry, Faith uses her voice to inspire a heart of service in others, to advocate for heart disease, to empower others impacted by CHD by letting them know they are not alone, and to encourage everyone to chase their dreams.

TESTIMONIALS

Faith is a phenomenal public speaker who has shared her personal heart disease journey at American Heart Association events throughout Maine, in her blog and on social media. Her speaking style is direct, passionate, and impactful as she walks her audience through her experience. But she doesn't stop there. She uses her story as a way to educate and inspire others to pay attention to their heart health and to seek help if they are having any symptoms and to be their own advocates.

-Brenda Vitali: Marketing Communication Director Northern New England American Heart Association

Faith is extremely passionate about advocating for and spreading awareness about congenital heart defect research. She is an extremely well-spoken and professional young woman who does a fantastic job representing Heart Warriors like herself. Faith has done a remarkable job speaking about her experiences and bringing hope to Heart Warriors and families everywhere. The Children's Heart Foundation has been proud to work alongside Faith on initiatives to bring awareness to CHDs, as well as having her speak at our in person events.

-Lauren DeVoe: Marketing & Communications Director Children's Heart Foundation

There are many people in leadership roles. There are far fewer who truly lead and serve and love as Faith Brackett does each and every day. I was blessed a few years back to first experience the essence of Faith, her brilliance and her heart, when she appeared on stage as a "GoRed Spokeswoman" and delivered a compelling heart message that touched the heart and mind and soul of each of us in the audience. As a true survivor, as a true thriver, Faith embodies her name (and adds Hope and Love (and Wisdom)) and helps each of us, all of us to do so too. She is brilliant (with her Bachelor's Degree in Elementary Education and minor in Psychology) and her work and her passion has carried her into a space that I too am oh so passionate about - Stopping Bullying. In 2023, I was blessed to share a panel with Faith as part of a Stop Bullying and Amplify Positive Childhood Experiences program and during and since that time have continued to be inspired by Faith and her passion for child health and stopping bullying.
